99.5 mc FM Program Folio, vol. 2, no. 8, April 17-30

LATE NEWS

Beginning with this Folio, Edward P. Morgan, one of America's most distinguished news analysts, will be heard each weekday night at 11:15 with a report of the day's news and commentary. The fifteen-minute program, which is heard earlier over the American Broadcasting Company network, has been made available to WBAI for later broadcast through the courtesy of WABC and his sponsors, the AFL-CIO.

Edward P. Morgan is this year's recipient of the Alfred I. DuPont Memorial Award, given to a radio-television news commentator in the field of public service broadcasting. He has also received the 1961 Headliners Award for "outstanding radio news broadcasting." In 1956, Mr. Morgan won a Peabody Award for the "outstanding news program of the year."

Mr. Morgan is not new to Pacifica. He is already heard on KPFA in San Francisco at a time later than the network broadcast. Commenting on his forthcoming WBAI broadcasts, Mr. Morgan said: "I am delighted to broadcast over Pacifica Radio in New York, as I do already in San Francisco, and to reach the large number of sophisticated listeners who are responsible for this increasingly productive radio venture."

STEREOPHONIC OPERA

One of the winners of the 1960 Prix Italia is "Ondine," by the young Japanese composer, Akira Miyoshi. This "musical composition with words" was written for stereo broadcasting ". . . in an attempt to produce the atmosphere of the transparent water world and its vastness." It has been recorded in stereo by the Japan Broadcasting Corporation, and we are proud to be able to present it in its most effective form in cooperation with WRVR-FM. The date is Sunday, April 30, at 2:00 P. M. At that time, those listeners with two FM receivers should tune in the left-hand channel on WBAI's frequency, 99.5. The right-hand channel will be on WRVR's frequency, 106.7. The majority of listeners, owning a single FM receiver, will be able to hear "Ondine" on either frequency, but with less of the possible three-dimensional effect. This broadcast is only the first in a series of stereophonic programs produced in cooperation with WRVR. There will be many more in the month of May, to be listed in the next two Folios.

NON-STEREOPHONIC OPERA . . . but a rare treat . . . is Rossini's biblical drama, "Mose," to be heard on Sunday, April 23, at 2:00 P. M. Nicola Rossi-Lemini sings the title role, with Tulio Serafin conducting the Teatro San Carlo, in an imported recording not as yet available in the U. S. Highly recommended.
